

Accessing Emergency & Urgent Care in the Physicians Plus network

When the need for emergency or urgent care arises, deciding what to do and where to go in a moment's notice is critical. Physicians Plus wants you to be informed about your emergency room and urgent care benefits and give you the information you need in the event of an emergency.

Emergency Care

Emergency care is care for medical conditions that will likely result in serious jeopardy to a person's health or that of an unborn child. Examples of conditions requiring emergency care include:

choking; drug overdose; heart attack; seizures; stroke; and unconsciousness.

Where to seek emergency care...

- If you have a severe emergency, call 911 or visit the nearest ER as soon as possible.
In Madison, go to UnityPoint Health - Meriter Hospital or UW Health-UW Hospitals and Clinics, if you can.
- In less severe cases, call your doctor for advice before you go to the ER.
- See our online provider directory at pplusic.com for a list of all in-network emergency facilities.

Urgent Care

Urgent care is for conditions that require timely treatment when your primary care physician is not available. Call your doctor if you need help deciding on care.

Do not go to a hospital ER for urgent care, unless instructed to do so. Examples of conditions requiring urgent care include: minor broken bones; minor cuts; minor burns; drug reactions; non-severe bleeding; and sprains.

Where to seek urgent care...

- In Dane County, please visit one of these Urgent Care Centers: UW Health Union Corners and West Towne Clinics in Madison; and Stoughton Hospital Urgent Care in Stoughton and Oregon.
- See our online provider directory at pplusic.com for a list of all in-network urgent care centers.
